Navigating Open Access: From NIH Policy to Publishing

*Presented by: Jennifer E. Dinalo, PhD, MLIS
Health Sciences Research and Data Librarian*

Join us for a Research Bytes webinar on Open Access, what it is, why it matters, and how it impacts your research.

We'll cover:

- An overview of the NIH Open Access Policy
- The current landscape of open access publishing
- Transformative agreements available to USC researchers

This session is ideal for researchers, faculty, and graduate students looking to stay informed and make their work more accessible.
